Retail: We launched our products at a national agricultural fair to test the market. We discovered that there is a high retail demand so we designed small sized packages for retail customers.
Impurities Treatment: During transportation from the farm to the factory, plastic fibers from jumbo bags contaminate our products. These plastic fibers are later melted into our products during the manufacturing process, so we have invested in jute bags as a plastic-free alternative.

CIRCULAR ECONOMY MODEL

We create a sustainable system of regenerating wasted materials.

Vietnam is a developing agricultural country. The GDP grew by 7% in 2019, and 70% of the population works in the agricultural industry. However, corn cob waste manufacturers often export to increase sales. That is why we distribute in both domestically and internationally to bring the best products to our country, and maintain high sales.

SOCIAL IMPACT

Our company follows the triple bottom line framework: People-Planet-Profit, in order to focus on social and environmental concerns while still making a profit.

People: When our profit reaches $100,000, we plan to invest 5% of our profit into assisting farmers with setting up mushroom farms to increase their income.
Planet: To date, we have prevented 37 tons of CO2 from being emitted into the atmosphere by selling over 34 tons of corn cobs. Over the next 5 years, we project to prevent 10 million tons of CO2 by selling 9,331 tons of corn cobs.
Profit: By buying corn cob from poor locals in mountainous regions, we have already helped 8 farmers to increase their income by $140. This is a 10% raise from their average annual income. After 5 years, we project that we will increase the income of 2318 farmers by the same amount.
